THE RESULTS SUMMARIZED.

Return of Joseph G. Cannon to Congress. Election of a Republican Governor and United States Senator in New York.

Heavy falling off of the Progressive vote in nearly every State. Decisive Republican gains in New York and Illinois in Congressional membership.

Overwhelming defeat of Palmer in Pennsylvania by Senator Boies Penrose. Election of nearly all State officers but that of Governor in Massachusetts by the Republicans.

Election of a Republican Governor and a Republican United States Senator in Ohio. La Follette overwhelmingly defeated.

Decided Republican gains in the New Jersey Congressional delegation. Majority of the Democrats in the lower house of Congress is reduced to 25.

Murdock defeated in Kansas. Beveridge snowed under in Indiana. Entire Democratic Congressional delegation in Connecticut and Delaware defeated and Republicans elected in their stead.

Republicans carried Nassau county, the home of Roosevelt, by 2000. Republicans elect U. S. Senator in Illinois.

Prohibition defeated in probably six states. Woman's suffrage defeated in probably seven states.

Massachusetts. BAY STATE VOTE SPLIT. REPUBLICANS GET EVERYTHING BUT ONE OFFICE.

Progressive Weakness a Pathetic Affair, the Vote for that Climate Falling Off to Nearly Nothing. Democrats, Through Courtesy, are Allowed to Elect a Governor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Gov. David I. Walsh (Dem.) was leading, according to returns from upward of three-quarters of the State in today's election, but it was uncertain whether the Democrats had been able to again secure the other places on the State ticket. Figures at hand for Lieutenant-Governor gave Grafton D. Cushing (Rep.) a slight lead over his Democratic opponent, Lieut.-Gov. Barry, with a probability of winning by a small margin if the same ratio of increase was shown.

The smallest of the Progressive vote, which last year gave the party second place in the State, was a feature of the election. In many small towns the Progressive vote for the head of the ticket fell off from 10 to 75 per cent, and in the first 188 election districts compiled the total for Joseph Walker, the party nominee for Governor, was but 32,214, as against 32,510 for Charles S. Bird, who headed the ticket a year ago.

Early returns indicated little change in the completion of the Massachusetts Congressional delegation. Allen T. Treadway in the First District; Frederick H. Gillett in the Second; Calvin D. Paige in the third, A. P. Gardner in the sixth, and William S. Greene in the eighth, all Republicans, were associated by substantial majorities.

The vote for Governor in the city of Boston, complete, was: McCall (Rep.), 25,076; Walker (Prog.), 26,893; Walsh (Dem.), 50,093.

Boston vote. In 1912 was: Bird (Prog.), 18,825; Gardner (Rep.), 15,159; Walsh (Dem.), 46,628.

CUMMINS TAKES IOWA EASILY. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] DES MOINES (Iowa), Nov. 3.—Scattered returns from Des Moines and out-State precincts early indicated the re-election of incumbent Albert B. Cummins (Rep.) over Maurice Connolly (Dem.) and Casper Schenk (Prog.) by a plurality of more than 40,000.

CLEAN SWEEP IN TENNESSEE. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] NASHVILLE (Tenn.), Nov. 3.—In complete returns at 8 o'clock tonight indicated the election of Thomas C. Cray, Democratic nominee for Governor, over Ben W. Hooper, Republican incumbent.

Indications are that all Congressmen are re-elected and that Tennessee will have a Democratic Legislature.

"Uncle Joe" Comes Back With a Rush.

Congressman Cannon of Illinois, Returned for the twentieth time to the National House of Representatives, who may be relied upon to give a few pertinent facts concerning the last two years of Democratic rule the first time he takes the floor.

ILLINOIS' FAVORITE SON RE-ELECTED IN TRIUMPH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] DANVILLE (Ill.), Nov. 3.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon has come back, as he said he would. He will take his seat in Congress next March, for the twentieth time, and the citizens will see, he says, will be as long and black as the ones he used on his front porch this beautiful November day, when the voters of the Eighteenth District elected him over Representative Frank T. O'Hair by probably 5850 majority.

"Uncle Joe" old neighbors gave him a new certificate of political character, despite the fact that President Wilson pleaded with the voters for Mr. O'Hair's return; despite the fact that Col. Roosevelt in his Illinois speeches trained his heaviest howitzers on the Danville statesman; that Albert J. Beveridge took special shots at him; that Raymond Robins, "Progressive" candidate for Senator, predicted his defeat, and that every Chicago newspaper was strongly against his return to the halls of Congress.

Mr. Cannon was elected first to Congress forty-two years ago. He was re-elected repeatedly and served continuously till 1911, except the two years from 1891 to 1893. Mr. O'Hair defeated "Uncle Joe" by a margin of 809 votes two years ago, when the Bull Moose was at the zenith of its power in Illinois. Samuel T. Buser, an old soldier, was the man who beat "Uncle Joe" in 1899. Nobody else was able to repeat the trick till Mr. O'Hair slipped in between.

SWEEPING VICTORIES OF THE GRAND OLD PARTY.

Progressives Annihilated in their Second Clash—Wilson Takes to His Bed.

Splendid Triumph in New York Barely Excels in Glory the Successes Achieved in the Buckeye State. Democratic Delegation from Connecticut is Entirely Displaced—Bull Moose Vamooses.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Sweeping Republican gains throughout the country, which reached a climax in this State by the overwhelming victory of Charles S. Whitman for Governor, and James W. Wadsworth to succeed Elihu Root in the United States Senate, were indicated tonight in early returns of the general elections.

Heavy falling off of the Progressive vote in many States, the return to Congress of former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, decisive Republican gains in New York and Illinois in the House membership, and the overwhelming defeat of Representative Mitchell Palmer by Senator Boies Penrose in Pennsylvania were features of the early returns. Democratic leaders, however, were pleased by a triumph in Massachusetts, where former Representative Samuel W. McCall was defeated for the Governorship by Gov. Walsh.

Early returns indicated that the Democrats would retain control of Congress with approximately no change in the Senate majority, but by a decidedly reduced majority in the House.

The triumph of Senator Penrose in Pennsylvania over A. Mitchell Palmer, (Dem.), who was one of the original supporters of Woodrow Wilson, and Gifford Pinchot (Prog.), was overwhelming.

Senators re-elected as the result of hard battles were Frank Brandegee (Rep.) of Connecticut, who was opposed by Gov. Simon E. Baldwin; Albert B. Cummins (Rep.) of Iowa, who defeated Representative Maurice Connolly; John W. Smith, (Dem.) of Maryland; William J. Stone, (Dem.) of Missouri; Jacob H. Gallinger (Rep.) of New Hampshire, who was opposed by Representative E. B. Stevens.

Democratic Senators in the South were re-elected without difficulty, new Senators from Southern States chosen being Representative Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama and Representative Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia. Former Gov. J. C. W. Beckham (Dem.) of Kentucky, was chosen for the long term, Francis E. McGovern (Rep.) was elected, according to early returns, to succeed Senator Stephenson (Rep.) from Wisconsin.

Besides former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, other Illinois Republicans who were turned out of the House in the last Democratic landslide who will be returned to Congress were William B. McKinley, Charles E. Fuller and John A. Sterling. Republicans also made gains in New York, electing over Democratic Congressional incumbents Oscar W. Swift, Rollin E. Sanford, Walter W. McGee and R. L. Haskell.

The defeat of Representative Charles A. Korbly (Dem.) of Indiana, by Merrill Moores also marked the general trend of Republican gains throughout the country.

Sereno E. Payne (Rep.) of New York, one of the oldest members of the House in point of service, was re-elected without difficulty.

Election of State officers resulted in a few turn-overs. In New York Gov. Glynn, the Democratic candidate for re-election, was defeated decisively by Dist.-Atty. Whitman (Rep.) Frederick H. Davenport, Progressive nominee, in support of whose candidacy ex-President Roosevelt devoted most of the campaign, was left far in the rear, his vote being exceeded by that of William Sulzer, who was deposed as Governor last year.

In Tennessee also a change of party control was indicated. Early returns pointed to the defeat of Gov. Ben W. Hooper, the Republican incumbent, by Thomas Rye (Dem.).

Defeat of woman suffrage in Wisconsin and North Dakota, and prohibition in Arizona and Ohio was indicated. In Ohio the prohibition issue was uppermost. In Cleveland and Dayton

REPUBLICAN TIDAL WAVE SWEEPS BUCKEYE STATE.

Gov. Cox Undoubtedly Defeated on the Largest Vote Ever Polled in Ohio, While Warren G. Harding, Old Guard Candidate for Senator, will Go in by Estimated Plurality of Hundred Thousand.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] COLUMBUS, (O.), Nov. 3.—The Republican tidal wave has swept over the Buckeye State also, and though the returns are slow and rather meager to base a definite declaration upon, it has probably been carried safely back into the Republican fold and elected a Republican Governor for the first time since 1894, and this has been done on the largest vote ever polled in the State, probably not less than a million and a quarter votes.

Willis (Rep.) was probably elected by 45,000.

Gov. James M. Cox was elected two years ago by a plurality of over 140,000. It required a Republican gain of fifty-two to the precinct throughout the State to overcome that lead. The returns tonight indicate that the rate of Republican gain on the head of the ticket, Governor, will be over sixty to a precinct. The first of the anti-Cox tide was concentrated on Gov. Cox and it is reasonable to expect that the other candidates on the Democratic ticket will run ahead of Gov.

Cox, but not sufficiently to save them from defeat, so that it is likely that the entire Republican State ticket has been elected.

There can be no possible question about the election of Warren G. Harding, the Republican candidate for United States Senator to succeed Theodore E. Burton, over Atty.-Gen. Timothy S. Hogan. Harding's plurality may run up toward 160,000. The religious question played a prominent part in this case.

"PROGRESSIVES" GONE. Notwithstanding the fact that the Prohibition party fused with the "Progressives" in the campaign and supported the "Progressive" ticket, the "Progressive" vote seems to have been reduced almost to the vanishing point, and it is doubtful if James J. Garfield, "Progressive" candidate for Governor will have more than 30,000 in the entire State. Even in the Western Reserve, where the Empire State. WHITMAN DEFEATS GLYNN; NEW YORK IS REPUBLICAN. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] 1861, the vote for Senator stood: Wadsworth, 254,407; Gerard, 227,743; Colby, 28,402.

At Republican headquarters it was said that their entire State ticket and a majority of their candidates for both houses of the Legislature had been elected. The result became known early. Within two hours after the polls closed the Democrats generally admitted defeat for Gov. Glynn. They clung to the hope, however, that Gerard would be elected.

Supporters of Gov. Glynn had hoped that he would carry Greater New York by 105,000 and that Mr. Whitman would come down to Harlem with no more than a plurality of 75,000. These hopes soon were dissipated. Virtually complete returns from the city indicated that Glynn probably would have a plurality of between 50,000 and 60,000 here and that Whitman's up-State lead would be well upwards of 175,000.

Wadsworth polled a good vote in 4081 districts out of 5661 in the State, the votes for Governor stood: Whitman, 529,326; Glynn, 453,272; Sulzer, 80,540; Davenport, 37,963.

Attack on Ypres Progressing, Says Report from Berlin, but Loss of Several Hundred Men West of Roye is Admitted—Closing of North Sea by British Regarded as One of Most Important Events of War.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

AMSTERDAM (via London) Nov. 3, 7:45 p.m.—The following official dispatch issued in Berlin has been received here: "A telegram from general headquarters, dated November 3 at noon, states that inundations south of Nieuport prevent all operations in this part of the country.

"The water in places is as high as a man. Our troops have evacuated the inundated districts without loss of men, horses or guns.

"Our attacks on Ypres are progressing. More than 2300 men, mostly English, have been captured, and also several machine guns. "West of Roye severe fighting has taken place with great losses on both sides, but the situation is unchanged. In the village fight we lost several hundred in missing and two cannon. Our attacks on the Aime east of Soissons are successful, despite obstinate resistance. Our troops have occupied several strongly fortified positions beyond Charvonne and Soupir, capturing more than a thousand French, three cannon and four machine guns.

"Near the cathedral in Soissons the French have posted a heavy battery and made the steeple an observation post.

"Between Verdun and Toul several French attacks have been repulsed. Troops of French soldiers wore German overcoats and helmets.

"In the Vosges, near Marbach, a French attack was repulsed and our troops began a counter attack.

"In the east the operations are still in a state of evolution and there has been no fighting.

"The Russian First Siberian Army Corps on November 1 used civilians as breastworks while destroying a bridge."

LONDON, Nov. 3, 10:45 p.m.—That the German army has abandoned its attempt to hack its way along the Belgian coast to Calais is agreed upon by all the officials tonight.

A combination of inundated country, the remnants of the Belgian army, under King Albert and the activity of the British warships, seemingly all contributed toward ending the costly struggle.

A Berlin official report attributed the failure of the Germans entirely to the flooded state of the country, where the water in places is over a man's head; but it declares that the army of Emperor William withdrew in good order and without losses. After nearly three weeks of desperate fighting the brunt of the attack has now shifted to the Ypres region, where the English army of Field Marshal Sir John French, French, British, Indian and Territorial, apparently must meet another onslaught. To the scene of this contemplated battle, according to reports, Emperor William has gone to give encouragement to his men by his presence.

TURKEY SEEMS DIVIDED. A state of war exists between Turkey on the one side and Russia, Great Britain and Serbia on the other, yet the Ottoman government appears as a house divided against itself, one section seemingly being desirous of war.

Greater New York, approximately two-fifths of the total number of districts giving Gerard a lead of only about 10,000 over his opponent. At the same time Wadsworth had a 10,000 lead in a little less than one-third of the up-State districts.

Wilson supporters indulged in a celebration at his Broadway headquarters when they heard that Glynn had been defeated. They gave all credit for Whitman's victory to their leader and the former Governor expressed the same view thus:

"The verdict of the people speaks for itself. Without money, without newspaper support and without organization I have elected Whitman, beaten Glynn and made Roosevelt look like a third center."

Whitman had nothing to say except that "the result speaks for itself."

The only word forthcoming from Gov. Glynn was his telegram to Mr. Whitman sent from Albany.

"I congratulate you on your victory," it said.

Mr. Taft edged his way in the angry crowd and turned down a second floor balcony.

The police were called and Col. Ullmann was ejected from the vicinity. President Wilson's picture was posted a third time and remained up for the rest of the day.

THANKS GOD FOR WILSON.

Republican Official Thanks President Cased Old Guard Victory.

(BY DEBBY WEBB—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 3.—James B. Reynolds, secretary of the Republican National Committee, had this comment on the Republican victory: "Republican gains in the East, Republican gains in the West, thank God for Woodrow Wilson."

and were repulsed only after determined fighting.

"On our left it was a bad day for the Germans. We drove them from some of the trenches out of which they had turned us on the previous evening and captured 150 prisoners and released some of our men whom they had taken. Our guns did great execution. They afterwards made five desperate assaults on our trenches."

"Each assault was easily beaten back, our troops waiting until the enemy came within very close range before they opened fire, causing terrible havoc in the solid masses."

"During the fighting in this quarter the German shells were extremely heavy. We made more than 600 prisoners and picked up 1500 dead."

"Much of the slaughter was due to our machine guns, which our field guns and howitzers did their share. An enemy fell back they were subjected to a shower of shrapnel; when they sought shelter in villages or buildings they were shattered and driven out by higher explosive shells and then again caught by shrapnel, as they came into the open."

"The troops to suffer so severely were mostly of the Twenty-third Corps, one of their new formations. The way their advance was conducted showed a lack of training and faults in leading which the almost superhuman bravery of the soldiers could not counterbalance. It was a holocaust."

"The spectacle of these devoted men chanting a national song as they marched to certain death was inspiring."

"It was pitiable, and if any proof be needed that untrained valor alone cannot gain the day in modern warfare, the advance of the Twenty-third German Corps on October 31, most assuredly furnishes it."

"Our artillery brought down a German captive balloon. As some gauge of the rate which our guns were firing, it may be mentioned that one field battery expended 1800 rounds of ammunition during one day."

"On October 24, the action on our right once more was confined to artillery except at night, when the Germans pressed on only to be repulsed."

"The center near Arras, however, our troops withstood three separate attempts of the enemy to push forward. Against our left the German Tenth and Seventeenth Corps made a violent effort, but with no success."

"On Sunday, October 25, it was our turn to take the offensive. Our left wing gained some ground and took two guns and eighty prisoners. In the center fighting was severe, though generally undecisive in result, and our troops in some places were engaged in hand-to-hand combat. Towards evening we captured 200 prisoners."

"Up to the night of October 25, therefore, not only have we maintained our position against a great effort on the part of the enemy to break through to the west or to force us back, which was started on the 25th, but we have on our left pushed the offensive."

"It is true that the efforts against the German line have been made to a certain extent by partially trained men, some of whom appear to be suffering from lack of food, but it must not be forgotten that the troops which are in great force are comparatively fresh. They are fighting with the utmost determination in spite of the fact that many of them are heavily sick of the war."

"The struggle has been of the most severe and sanguinary nature, and it seems that success will favor that side which is possessed of the most endurance or can bring up and fling fresh forces into the fray."

"Though we have undoubtedly inflicted immense loss upon the enemy, they so far have filled the gaps in their ranks and return to the charge, and we have suffered heavily ourselves."

"One feature of the tactics now employed has been the use of cavalry in dismounted action. On both sides many of the mounted troops are fighting in the trenches alongside the infantry. Armored motor cars, armed with machine and light quick-firing guns also have played a successful part on our side, especially helping to eject the enemy lurking in villages and isolated buildings. Against such parties the combined action of the quick-firing against snipers in buildings and the machine guns has been most efficacious."

ALL HANDS PERISH ON THE MONMOUTH.

(BY PACIFIC CABLE.) SANTIAGO (Chile) Nov. 3.—All hands are reported to have perished when the British cruiser Monmouth took her plunge beneath the sea after thirty minutes of fighting with the Germans off Coronel, according to advices received here.

As darkness gathered, the Good Hope seemed to be on fire, following a terrible burst of flames from her, which seemed to indicate that an explosion had occurred on board.

The Glasgow is reported to have arrived in a badly damaged condition in Coronel Bay. The Otranto escaped to Puerto Montt. The German ships arrived in Valparaiso today to take on board coal and provisions. They will leave tomorrow morning, having suffered no mishap. Only a very few of the men of the German crews were wounded. The battle has caused a tremendous sensation here.

NORTH SEA MINE SINKS SUBMARINE.

BRITISH VESSEL GOES DOWN AND SEVERAL OF CREW ARE SAVED.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) LONDON, Nov. 3.—The British submarine D-5 was sunk in the North Sea early this morning by a mine which was thrown out by a German cruiser retreating before British cruisers.

Two officers and two men of the submarine were saved.

This information is contained in an admiralty report issued here tonight. The reports say a German squadron fired on the British gunboat Halcyon, which was patrolling, wounding one man.

Various naval movements were made, the reports say, as a result of which the Germans retreated rapidly, and although shadowed by the light cruisers they could not be brought to a decisive action.

The rear-most German cruiser in her retirement threw out a number of mines and the submarine was sunk by one of these.

The submarine D-5, which was built in 1911, was 155 feet long. She had a speed of fifteen knots above the water and ten knots submerged.

CLOSE CONTEST IN MICHIGAN.

"PROGRESSIVES" VOTE IS FAR BELOW THAT CAST IN LAST ELECTION.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.) DETROIT, Nov. 3.—A preliminary returns received up to 10 p. m. bore out predictions that the Michigan gubernatorial contest between Gov. Woodbridge N. Ferris (Dem.) and former Gov. Charles S. Osborn (Rep.) would be an exciting one.

Three hundred and fifty-four State precincts out of a total of 5112 gave Ferris 52,924; Osborn, 56,134; and H. R. Patterson (Prog.) 6955.

Osborn followers counted on a big majority in the upper peninsula, where the "Progressive" vote was falling below that cast in 1912. Frank E. Doremus in the First District, and Samuel W. Beakes in the Second, the two Michigan Democratic Congressmen seeking re-election, were in the lead in their returns.

HONOLULU STOPS JAP AVIATORS.

Public Flights Over Hawaii Halted by the Police.

Mysterious Station on Coast Sought by Detectives.

Information is Supplied to Cruisers in Pacific.

(BY PACIFIC CABLE.) HONOLULU (T. H.) Nov. 3.—Two Japanese aviators, billed last Saturday to make public flights here, were stopped by the police today from making further ascensions, after they came down from their first flight.

Immediately after the order had been put into effect there was an unusual conference attended by Maj. Gen. W. H. Carter, commander of the Department of Hawaii; Rear-Admiral C. B. T. Moore, U.S.N., commander of the naval station at Pearl Harbor; and the two aviators, Mr. S. S. Yamura, collector of the port, and Capt. Arthur McDuffie of the detective force.

None of these officials would discuss the subject matter of the conference, or give a reason for the action of the police. The two aviators, Mr. S. S. Yamura, collector of the port, and Capt. Arthur McDuffie of the detective force.

In view of the delicate neutrality situation here, caused by the presence of the German gunboat Geier in the harbor, and the Japanese battleship Kikuzuki, it is supposed the possibility of sending or receiving signals was a comparatively few hours' delay in the matter of the conference.

MYSTERY STATION ON PACIFIC COAST.

(BY DEBBY WEBB—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 3.—Somewhere in the coast range is a wireless "will-o'-the-wisp" wireless station. It is on a peak. One day it is heard "talking" from a specific zone. A day or two later messages will be picked up from a radio miles either up or down the coast. The great distance between the zones in which this station works is a comparatively few hours' delay in the matter of the conference.

Some of these officials would discuss the subject matter of the conference, or give a reason for the action of the police. The two aviators, Mr. S. S. Yamura, collector of the port, and Capt. Arthur McDuffie of the detective force.

ly a ripple of complaint over the noisy and untoward circumstances was heard yesterday despite record-breaking vote and interest in the various candidates and amendments. Not once did fraudulent voting had been reported to the authorities up to a late this morning. It was the biggest and quietest and serene election in Los Angeles.

Parts of the city the vote was held in the booths being filled practically from the opening at 6 a.m. Complaints were made to the police by voters who found the voting booths made voting on candidates and forty-eight amendments hard. Voting took from six to ten minutes for each person throughout the hundreds of men and women.

and it's safe to say J. V. Snyder, the Democratic candidate for Governor, got another good vote. The crowd voting was especially heavy on Main street during the early afternoon. The crowd, after standing in line in the street for half an hour and making no apparent progress, left in disgust. The Johnson outfit that is solely responsible for the outlandish blanket. The booths were cramped and the lines of people waiting for the booths were narrow, necessitating much crowding and unfolding of the big blankets. The vote was heavy in the Boyle district after 11 o'clock and continued in volume up to 6 o'clock. The vote was heavy from 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. So the march of the so-called silent majority was unexpected was the result of the so-called silent majority calls for more ballots as well as the boxes. The "drys" were in the majority and when it came to passing the enormous woman vote the Fredericka managers were "big game" with the "dry" Johnson forces did one. Thousands of the women were "dry" voters. The "drys" were greatly outvoted by the "wets." The "drys" had several workers in every precinct and they had two automobiles to the one. The Fredericka forces had two autos on the job at 8 a.m. and they had the Republi can machines. Both the Ford and the Buick were well supplied with cash. Sheriff Hammel had a car and the Republi can John Cline had about 125. The "Progs" had paid workmen to go out and canvass and on volunteer supporters. Extramar Mcleaser estimated when

It was disclosed that of the 112,000 acres owned by the state and county, 86,000 acres had been sold and about 260,000 had voted.

THE UNITED STATES BUREAU OF THE LANDS has received the request of Mrs. K. S. Lane, one of the present prospective homesteaders. Since Mrs. Lane recently made an order which will open to entry under the homestead act, on December 12, 1920, some 122,000 acres of non-irrigable land in California, the greater portion of which is in Kern and San Luis Obispo counties, she has requested that the bureau also allow her to file for such acreage each upon the land covered by the description of the lands in the above order. It will be sent to the local Land Offices at San Francisco, Los Angeles and Los Angeles, where the necessary forms may be obtained for application to make entries.

Held for Hearing.

Clarence Austin, held on suspicion of grand larceny in connection with a supposed scheme to victimize the losers of valuable articles advertising for their return in the newspapers, will be given a chance to clear himself— if he can—in Police Court today. In spite of the fact that he displayed to the officers a sheaf of business cards bearing the name "Clarence Austin, Manager of the Evening Globe," it appears from the statement of officials of the Globe company of Los Angeles that he was never more than a solicitor, and that for five days James S. Rodman, president of the concern, intimated yesterday that Austin left his service under a cloud, although he came here with high recommendations.

GERMAN DROPS BOMBS IN TOWN WHERE KING ALBERT IS SUPPOSED TO BE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Nov. 3.—A Central News dispatch from Northern France under date of Monday says that a German airman, skimming 500 feet above the Belgian town of Furnes, apparently with the knowledge that King Albert and President Poincaré were going to review the cavalry drawn up before the Hotel de Ville, dropped several bombs, which, however, missed the square and did but slight damage to a short distance away.

The King of Belgium and the President of France arrived on the scene after the craft had disappeared. Thereafter French and Belgian aeroplanes kept the air clear of the enemy.

DROPS BOMBS ON ANTIVARI.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
PARIS, Nov. 3.—In a dispatch from Cetinje, Montenegro, dated yesterday, the correspondent of the Havas agency says that three Austrian aeroplanes on November 1 dropped a number of bombs at Antivari in an endeavor to strike a French transport ship and the three torpedo boats escorting her. None of the missiles reached the mark. Two of them struck the quay, but did only slight damage. Others fell in the vicinity of the palace of the prefecture without causing any damage. Shots from the French torpedo boats and the batteries on the heights compelled the aeroplanes to flee.

SAYS AFRICAN REVOLT GRAVE.FORMER BOER LEADER THINKS UPRISING UNDERATED.

Gen. Viljoen Declares He has Private Advice that Opponents of Britain are Becoming Stronger. Expects India and Other Possessions to Tax England's Power.

England is doing everything in her power to minimize the uprising of the Boers in South Africa, according to Gen. P. J. Viljoen, who was second in command of the Boer forces in the famous three-year outbreak, and now resides in the Imperial Valley. With Mrs. Viljoen, he registered at the Van Nuys yesterday from Calexico.

"Private cables to me indicate that South Africa is aflame with the spirit of independence, and that reports of serious defeats of various insurrectionist generals are untrue," said Gen. Viljoen. "I am surprised at the attitude of Gen. Botha, who appears to be the only one of the former leaders who is holding firm with England, this probably because of the promise of a title and other great emoluments."

"The report of the defeat and the surrender of Gen. Botha in Cape Colony is a pure fabrication, if my informants are at all faithful. The last news I had stated that Gen. Botha had captured six field guns and three squadrons of English cavalry sent out to get him. His forces are constantly increasing, as are those of Gen. Beyers in the Transvaal and Gen. De Wet in the Orange Free State."

The blue-gray eyes of Gen. Viljoen sparkled with the suggestion of his return to active service. "Things are so constituted with me at this time, both as to health and business, that my getting away is rather doubtful," he said. A serious asthmatic affliction has at times even endangered his life, and he has a large ranch that occupies most of his attention.

Diagnosing the situation of England he said: "At the rate of uprisings among the colonies at present, England's support in the European conflict will soon become negligible. Her troops must be rushed to South Africa and to Egypt. With Turkey embroiled and the Mohammedan element in suspense, it is going to mean precipitation of revolt in India shortly. That will require great numbers of troops and will minimize fearfully the effectiveness of support to France and Russia."

"Considerable forces will be necessary for home protection if the Germans win the entire Belgian coast and part of that of Northwestern France. The outlook daily becomes more grave, and England may be the first of the allies to sue for peace, this merely in order to cope with internal troubles."

BLOCK SIGNAL SAVES TRAIN.

Band of L.W.V.'s Attempts to Wreck Southern Pacific Express at Plume Station by Trowing Switch.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)

STMS (Cal.) Nov. 3.—The band of unemployed, some of whom say they are Industrial Workers of the World, which is marching through Shasta county, along the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad, made an attempt to wreck train No. 15, the southern California Express, tonight, three miles above Plume.

The lock of a spur switch was broken and the switch thrown. The wreckers did not understand that the block system would make that fact apparent. When the block signal showed, the flag brakeman ran ahead and discovered the attempt. The train was delayed but fifteen minutes.

KILLS WIFE AND BABE.

While Removing Gun from Rack Farmer Accidentally Discharges Weapon and Wipes Out Family.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)

EVERETT (Wash.) Nov. 3.—Thinking he heard marauders in his orchard, J. G. Tungstara, a farmer living a few miles north of Arlington, Wash., rose from his supper table last night and attempted to take from the wall a shotgun with which to frighten away the intruders. In removing the gun from its fastenings, Tungstara discharged it, instantly killing his wife, aged 34, and their six-month-old babe.

Much thought has been given in late years to the subject of maternity.

The cities there are equipped with modern maternity hospitals.

Approximately 150,000 votes cast in Los Angeles county yesterday, incomplete returns from 163 precincts in the city and county over Capt. Fredericks' majority of about 20,000.

Democratic registered voters went into nothingness and the prohibition amendment was delivered to the "Progressive" party, as the result of the vote.

Lively Throng Reading Returns at The Times Building.

Only a bit of the immense crowd at First and Broadway.

Where the streets were packed from eight o'clock last night until after midnight, and where the quickest and most complete bulletin service in Los Angeles was given by The Times. There was a similar crowd and service at The Times Branch Office on South Spring street.

"THE TIMES" BULLETINS SERVE GREAT THROG.

Fifty Policemen Necessary to Keep Traffic Moving Through Eager Crowd—Scene Duplicated at "The Times" Branch Office—Few Accidents and Little Disorder in Congested Streets of Downtown District.

THOUSANDS of persons jammed and crowded about the Times Building last night, cheering as the returns from all parts of the county, as well as from remote parts of the United States where elections were held, were thrown on the screen. It was the best bulletin service and the largest crowd in the city.

It required the offices of half a hundred police, mounted and afoot, to keep lines of traffic open through the surging throngs eager to obtain the very latest and most comprehensive reports of the count as it was made in precincts, communities and counties.

Figures meaning apparent deliverance from the prohibition danger, the eight-hour law and several other menacing measures were cheered to the echo. Signs of relief were audible throughout the crowd as district after district showed the advocates of these adverse measures in the minority.

What transpired at First and Broadway also happened at the branch office of The Times, No. 619 South Spring street, where the crowds covered almost an entire block, and in the center of the area jammed from curb to curb across the street to the building line.

Police officers were unanimous in declaring the crowds on the whole the best behaved and most orderly election gathering ever on the streets of Los Angeles. There were few arrests for any cause. A large force of plainclothes men moved through the pulsating, beating human waves as a precaution against pickpockets.

Broadway, Spring and Main streets were lined with machines—one of the greatest automobile shows the city has ever seen. Everything on four wheels and mechanical by means was to be seen, from the old one-cylinder to the modern eight-cylinder.

Early in the evening there was a serious tensity, the effect of uncertainty and close returns on many candidates as well as on amendments.

An unusual situation developed at a South Hill street polling place, designated as No. 52. No room was available and the election board had ordered that a tent be erected at No. 52 South Hill. This was discovered to be directly in front of "Progressive" headquarters, a violation of the election laws, which provide that a polling place can not be closer than 100 feet to such contamination.

At "Progressive" headquarters leaders of that party chuckled in glee over the fact that the election board had taken in the election that it was necessary to appeal to the Registrar of Votes for the removal of the boxes. They did not look at the situation from the viewpoint of the average citizen who realized that such a condition could not have arisen if the election board had not been so careless.

Similar declarations were made in various precincts all day, but they could not hold a candle to what some of the clerks and others employed in the "objectionable" polling places said during the night. They complained about the inadequate of their quarters, how cramped they were, and many a man and woman said they would give someone else the job at the next election.

In the State.

CALIFORNIA IS "WET;" JOHNSON GOVERNOR.

Prohibition Defeated by Perhaps Two Hundred Thousand Votes.

Open Trade Between "Progressives" and Democrats Gives Former a Strong Lift—Indication that Congressman Knowland, Republican, is Elected United States Senator—Nothing Left of the Heney Spectacle.

PROBABLE WINNERS IN STATE.

Governor—HIRAM W. JOHNSON (Prog.)
Lieutenant-Governor—JOHN M. ESHLEMAN (Prog.)
Secretary of State—FRANK C. JORDAN (Rep.)
Controller—JOHN S. CHAMBERS (Prog.)
Treasurer—F. W. RICHARDSON (Prog.)
Attorney-General—U. S. WEBB (Prog.)
Surveyor-General—W. S. KINGSBURY (Prog.)
United States Senator—JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND (Rep.)
Congress, Ninth District—In doubt.
Congress, Tenth District—W. D. STEPHENS.
Chief Justice Supreme Court—F. M. ANGELLOTTI or W. M. CONLEY.
Associate Justice Supreme Court—In doubt.
Presiding Judge, Second Appellate Court—N. P. CONREY.
State Superintendent Public Instruction—EDWARD HYATT.

WITH the aid of the Democratic votes bargained for upon an open trade between "Progressive" and Democratic leaders involving a "Progressive" vote for James D. Phelan, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, for a Democratic vote for Gov. Johnson, almost the entire "Progressive" State ticket was elected yesterday, according to incomplete returns from all over California.

The plurality of Gov. Johnson over Capt. Fredericks, the Republican candidate, will be about 10,000 votes, according to early estimates in both San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The "wets" defeated the prohibition amendment by a majority of almost 200,000, not only getting a great majority in the north against the "drys," but rolling up an unexpected vote in the south.

The race for United States Senator was fairly close up to midnight, but indications are that Congressman Knowland will win by a safe majority over James D. Phelan, his Democratic opponent. Phelan's vote in San Francisco was tremendous, but across the bay in Congressman Knowland's home district the Democratic candidate did not run even with the "Progressive" vote he seems to have obtained in other parts of the State. In the south Knowland ran ahead of Phelan sufficiently to give rise to the belief that he will land a winner by at least 20,000 votes.

HENRY SNOWED UNDER. While "Progressives" were trying to defeat Knowland by voting for Phelan, Henry, their own candidate, made a sorry spectacle in nearly every corner of California. He was snowed out of the race.

Special style in trousers made by Hart Schaffner & Marx

TROUSERS are designed now to carry out the general idea of the whole suit; to give the slender appearance sought for in the draping of the coat.

They hang straight from the hips, with no "break" at the instep; the bottom rather narrow; mostly with turnup.

In short, style in trousers is now as important a matter as style in coats. Our label in clothes is a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 4, 1914.—4 PAGES.

CAVEMAN TO FIGHT M'MAHON NEXT TUESDAY.

November 10:
LANGFORD TO BOX M'MAHON.
Heavyweights Signed up for Next Week.
May be Last Battle in Old Pavilion.

Hughie Jennings.

Woodman Says White has a Chance.
Sam Langford, the black heavy-weight, has been matched with Tom McMahon for a twenty-round battle at Vernon on the night of November 18. If the counting of the votes shows that the prize-fight amendment has carried, this will be the last boxing match at the old pavilion. It is not impossible that it may also be the beginning of the end of the career of the "cave man."

LITTLE WOLFE TO RACE OTTO HATTER.
LAST ROLLER SKATE RACE FOR SOUTHERN TITLE TO BE HELD AT BROADWAY RINK.
The fifth and last race in the series for the amateur skating championship of Southern California will be staged tonight at the Broadway Rink under the direction of Clifford Howard, chairman of the amusement committee of the Roller Skaters Association of Southern California.

CATCHWRIGHTS.
The fighters will enter the ring at catchweights. Langford will weigh about 135 pounds. McMahon will probably weigh about five pounds less. The contest will have an unique interest; it will bring into the ring two of the hardest hitters in the fighting business. In speaking of the deterioration of boxers, last night, Langford brought up the case of Ad Wolgast.

BILL JAMES BEATS BUSH IN BAY CITY.
LARGE CROWD GREETED MAJOR LEAGUERS AT EWING PARK; SCORE 4-2.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Big league baseball drew to Ewing Field today one of the largest attendances in its history. The All-National team with "Big" Bill James in the box defeated the All-Americans 4 to 2. Left fielder Carey broke up the game in the fifth frame, scoring James ahead of him with a long home run to right field. Score: R H E All-Nationals 4 10 1 All-Americans 2 4 0 James and Killifer; Bush and Henry.

THAT'S ALL.
"They say White hasn't a thing but a left hand, but as the man said in Ring Lardner's baseball stories, John D. Rockefeller hasn't anything but $200,000,000. White shoots in that left with terrific speed, and it lands like a dynamite explosion. "The case of Joe Thomas shows how White can hit. Joe was a young southern boy who was considered to have before him a career of brilliant promise. He was matched with White in New Orleans a year ago last April and Thomas was knocked out in eight rounds. Joe was so well thought of that they decided there must be some mistake, and they brought White back the next month to try again. This time he only lasted two rounds. And that ended his career. He has never been good for much as a fighter since."

BENDER REFUSES TO OBEY ORDERS.
MACK SORE AT INDIAN; CHIEF DICKERING WITH FEELS IS LATEST HUMOR.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 3.—A Chicago baseball official who refused permission to use his name tells why Connie Mack has asked waivers on Chief Bender, his famous curve artist. The Chicagoan overheard a conversation between Mack and Bender, in which the latter refused point blank to obey Mack's orders. One result of this insubordination was the remarkable batting of Hank Gowdy, which did much to do with the result of the series. Bender had also been ordered to visit the camp of the Braves, watch their system and learn their methods of attack and defense, but he flatly refused to do so. The Chicagoan believes that he knows the course as far as Bender, and will try to get the route again for the start.

A HARD ONE.
"Welsh is a perplexing fighter to handle. He punches his opponent with his left jab; then grabs and holds on. The only way to fight him is to rough him around and suddenly launch in straight punches when the chance presents itself. "White is strong enough and fast enough to do this—perhaps. When he comes into the ring to face Welsh he will meet problems of boxing that he never dreamed of before. He hasn't more than a chance, but he has that. If he can't beat Welsh, he will have to wait for a new lightweight to be developed to do it. None of the others now in the ring will be able to take Welsh's title away from him."

ROADSTER BODY.
The car which Chevrolet is to drive is a stock model Chevrolet roadster. When he started out on the course, no special preparation had been made for the run, and the car carried the roadster body which Chevrolet says

MARTY O'TOOLE WANTS STALLINGS TO BUY HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Just as soon as Marty O'Toole can get Manager George T. Stallings, of the Braves, in private and command his ear, the Pirate—or rather near-Pirate pitcher—will make an earnest pitch that something be done by George T. to help Marty out of a dilemma. In very truth, Marty would be a Brave if he possibly could. He will not be a Pirate and breathe in the smoke and hard knocks of Pittsburgh any more. That is settled. He would consider resuming the acceptance of his monthly pay check from the New York Giants with whom, as will be remembered, he had a brief term of life at the tail end of the just vanquished baseball season. He would welcome ardently the chance to toil for Stallings, and for several reasons. One is that he would be with a championship aggregation which stands out as reasonably sure to engage in another world's series next year. Another is that he feels that under a player who is to be returned to Pittsburgh at the option of his purchase, Naughty.

JENNINGS IS CALLED DOWN.
Detroit Chief Violated a Ruling
When He Told of Waivers on Athletics.
Information may be Withheld in Future.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit Americans, is to be disciplined at the American League meeting here beginning Thursday, according to announcement today by B. B. Johnson, the league president. Jennings violated one of the prime rules of the league, Johnson asserts, when he made public recently the fact that Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia club, had asked waivers on Plank, Bender and Coombs. Johnson said today Jennings might be fined and that the league might decide to withhold such information from the Detroit manager in the future, transacting its business with Frank Navin, owner of the club.

SCRAMBLE FOR A PLAYER DEPLORED.
MINOR-LEAGUERS BLAME THIS FOR POOR FINANCIAL SUCCESS.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
ROCK ISLAND (ILL.) Nov. 2.—Legislation looking toward more business-like methods and the elimination of the "assembly scramble for players," in baseball clubs controlled by the National Association of Minor Leagues, will be suggested by M. H. Sexton, president of the association, at the organization's annual meeting in Omaha next week.

For financial supervision and the scramble for players has brought about hard times in the baseball world, according to Mr. Sexton, who claims nothing but the enactment and enforcement of proper legislation will restore prosperity.

CHEVROLET PROMISES AN UPSET.

TRADITIONS OF RACE DEFIED.
NO EASTERN DRIVER EVER WON PHOENIX RACE—CHEVROLET SAYS HE WILL.
BY AD G. WADDELL.
Never has an eastern driver made a showing in the Los Angeles-Phoenix road race. The Cactus Derby has always been a westerner's race, won by westerners; but Louis Chevrolet defies traditions. The famous Frenchman says he will carry off the honors next week and win the title of "master driver of the world" with his Chevrolet racer. Chevrolet returned yesterday from a trial run out on the course. Leaving Sunday morning, the Frenchman went far as Needles, and encountered rain on the course, and returned to this city without going on to Phoenix. He believes that he knows the course as far as Needles, and will try to get the route again for the start.

He will use in the contest. The Frenchman and the body lashed down, but otherwise there will be little done to the machine. Barney Oldfield paid a compliment to his old-time rival yesterday when he said that Chevrolet could get more speed out of a car than any other man in the racing game, according to his way of thinking. Oldfield said that Chevrolet was a master of the mechanical art and that was alone enough to make him a dangerous contender in the Phoenix grind, even if he was not an expert desert driver and did not know the course as well as the westerners. Billy Carlson, the pilot of the Maxwell "25," is due to arrive in this city today after a round trip over the course. Accompanied by his mechanic, Dominic Basso, Carlson made the run to Phoenix in a Maxwell "25" touring car in fast time, returning slowly for the purpose of studying road conditions and mapping the campaign of the desert highway. UNDER THE WEATHER. On the return journey, Carlson was deserted by Basso, who was taken ill and returned on the train. The mechanic claims that he will be in condition again before the start, and will be in the relief driver's seat when George Adair sends the Maxwell No. 7 away from the line Monday morning. Carlson's car has arrived from the factory and will be prepared for the race during the next four days. After the machine is pronounced O.K., it will be driven out through the Cajon Pass and over the desert to Victorville the day before the race. This will be the only test that the Maxwell "25" will get before the start. Greenwood and Kincaid returned to this city yesterday after a strenuous season on the Cactus Derby trail. The crew of the Kincaid special will devote the rest of the time before the race to the final adjustments and groomings of their machine. "The Kincaid crew, Anderson and Yeager, returned from Phoenix Monday evening. They reported heavy rains in Northern Arizona, but said that the course will be better for the racing if the weather continues to be fair. George Hill has completed the final slicking down of the Stuts to be driven by Barney Oldfield. The car is just the same as when it appeared on the Indianapolis Speedway with the exception of an auxiliary water tank, a few extra straps and a tire rack on the side. Barney is to drive on wire wheels, and only two extras are to be carried. One wheel is lashed to the side rack and the other is on the rear. No lights are carried on Barney's car. The veteran says that he will be into all the controls before dark unless he goes in the ditch, and, if he does flop, some place along the route, all the lights in the world will not put him back in the running. AMATEUR BOXERS FAILURES.

SELDOM MAKE GOOD AS PROFESSIONALS.
CORBETT AND BRITT EXCEPTION TO RULE THAT THEY FAIL.
BY DE WITT VAN COURT.
Simon-pure amateur boxers seldom make good as professionals. We have many of the four-round boxers who are sometimes considered amateurs, but most of these are out-and-out professionals, from the fact that they receive money for their services. The only ones who ever become champions from the amateur class in this state were Jim Corbett and Jimmie Britt. Corbett only boxed a short time as an amateur, and Britt held it down for four years before he took up boxing as a professional. Frankie Neil, Abe Attell and Willie Ritchie, who held championships in their class at one time, all started in the four-round game in San Francisco. George Green, Lew Powell, Harry Baker, Walter Shulken, Al Kaufman and Sam Berger were amateurs in their younger days and met with considerable success as professionals. The last one who ever became a champion from the amateur class was Bob McAllister, but for some reason or other, he failed to make good, although he is a remarkable boxer. Green, Powell and Baker came very near the championship, but never won a crown as professionals, although each had a try at the champion in their time and won titles as amateurs. George Green won championships in the 125 and 135-pound class as an amateur. Britt was never defeated as an amateur, neither were Baker, Kaufman, Powell or Shulken, and Berger lost once only when he was a middleweight. Harry Foley, the well-known trainer and one-time manager of Willie Ritchie, was also a clever amateur. He took up the professional game. George Adair, Kid Lavigne, Joe Gans, Frank Erne, Tommy Ryan, Jim Jeffries and many other noted boxers were never amateurs. The only amateur who ever became an amateur may have before he enters the professional class, he has to make a new start when he becomes a professional. It requires much more seasoning and more strict training to become successful as a professional. As a rule, the amateur far outclasses the average professional in science, but lacks the experience of the longer contests that professionals travel over. Several of our local boys who won titles as amateurs failed to make good as professionals, with the exception of Babe and Frank Picato. Johnny Hugo, Sam Coulter and Jack Barry all won championships as amateurs, but failed in the professional class and gave it up. Hugo and Barry were hard-hitting amateurs and Coulter a very clever one. The champion amateur usually wins his titles on cleverness alone. The distance is short and does not require as much ruggedness. The rugged and tough boys in the amateur class are soon weeded out, get discouraged and quit the game for good. This perhaps accounts as much as anything else for the reason amateurs sometimes make failures as professional boxers.

Artisans and Mechanics in Final Rugby Battle Friday.

MANUAL ARTS BATTLES POLY.

Schools Unable to Decide on a Referee.

Win for Manual Means City
Title.

Three-cornered Tie if Poly is Winner.

BY HOWARD W. ANGUS.

The Tullers and Mechanics worked like wharf rats yesterday. The city game which is to be played at Washington Park was only three days away and the coaches were in driving moods.

It was long after dark before Fritch sent his Tullers into their lighted training quarters. Some of the men thought it might be just as well to sit up the rest of the night and take a look at the comet.

LATE FODDER.
Every Poly player is a cold-sufferer much to the wrath of his mother who puts a much higher value on being home on time for dinner than she does on winning championships. Both of the fifties who are to fight and scramble after the ball on the Washington field while some 10,000 people put bedlams to shame, scrimmaged last night. The scrimmages at both Manual and Washington Park were fierce. It was the first scrimmage of the week. It was next to Manual's last. Both coaches were hammering into the heads of their men whatever they had to hammer.

A QUESTION.
"What do you think of the Tullers," Fritch was asked after the practice. "Rotten," snapped the Manual coach.

"What's the matter? They seem to be in shape," answered the coach. "Lost their brains," answered the coach. So Fritch was not as pleased as a coach might be with the work. But when he got talking over the chances of the team Friday he was more hopeful.

Manual has secured a rubber. It has a longer title than the rest of the team. Capt. Blair and the rest of his injured team-mates will be back for Poly.

WILSON HURT.
With the exception of "Red" Wilson, the captain, and incidentally half of the Poly team, the Mechanics are in shape. He got a bruise in the L. A. battle and has been taking things easy. "Red" says that he may not be able to play. But Poly sticks know better. They know that the captain with the loud hair will play on Friday if he has to roll himself along in one of those wheel chairs.

GOING EASY.
Of course, the crippled captain will not scrimmage any this week and will stay off his pulled muscles as much as possible.

Out at Manual the practice included beside a scrimmage a signal drill and a wholesale lecture by the coaches to say nothing of the running remarks he let drop from time to time.

The Poly practice was the first hard work the Mechanics have attempted since their terrific fight against L. A. One more will satisfy Blake.

The old referee question still hangs fire. The coaches cannot agree. The men that Fritch is strong for, Hallett cannot see. It works just as well the other way around.

LIKE HILL.
They should decide on a referee without too much whiffles. The nearer they can come to the Hill class the better. There was a man who followed the play close, taught everything and gave few penalties. Now Mitchell works along the same lines. But it is understood that Poly would prefer another.

Poly is not quaking in its boots because Manual defeated L. A. and L. A. defeated them. According to the Mechanic viewpoint, Manual was lucky as the deuce to win from L. A. and the Blue and White had a whole carload of horse shoes to get away with their struggle.

There is no doubt that the Cliff-dwellers looked a much stronger fifteen against Poly than against Manual. But a losing team never looks to be any too good.

ANOTHER TIE.
Should Poly win from Manual, the city high schools will be staring a three-cornered tie square between the eyes. And it will be a case of starting the old thing over again as far as L. A., Poly and Manual are concerned.

If Manual wins that ends the matter once and for all as far as 1914 is concerned. Manual will have a clean slate—all victories and no defeats.

Then it will be up to the Tullers to face the Cardinals, which is the Rugby way of jumping from the frying pan into the fire. Pomona master Friday's winner if it's Manual and the winner of a three-cornered affair if it's Poly.

The Tullers may there is no danger of the city title meaning more games. Poly says, "Don't burn your bridges before you come to them."

BEACHMEN READY FOR SANTA ANA.

COACH HALL HAS THREE SETS OF BACKS; LONG BEACH IS FAVORITE ON DOPE.

The Long Beach and Santa Ana game of this week is the second big one of the prep schedule. It brings two of the big three together. Pasadena being the other.

Long Beach has a heavy line and fast backfield. Santa Ana is neither heavy nor light. It is wealthy in substitutes. In the Occidental freshmen game, Coach Hall sent three complete sets of backs in. One set played about as well as the other.

On the dope Long Beach is the stronger of the two teams. But Santa Ana has been coming up gradually while Long Beach has been hitting a fairly hard stride from the first. This gives Santa Ana a chance on condition.

HOW IT LOOKS TO ANGUS

Into the line alone. So he formed an interference. When McClung and Foster went off tackle there were three and four men tight on them as they went through ahead of him. When Dooms and Shipke came around on their tackle plays, four and five men did the swath set ahead of them.

So to Ralph Glaze belongs the credit of adding the line smashing attack to the Pomona machine attack and the Tiger open play.

The return of the Trojans has stimulated the American game. It has brought out larger crowds than ever packed Howard Field.

If Ralph Glaze had failed, instead of turning out the mighty variety he did, this would have never been.

Another thing that Glaze has added to the new game, is the smashing end of the old. It has been a long time since the south has seen an end drop a whole interference as James did against Occidental and Whittier.

Boost for James.
When the Occidental battle was over, Coach Glaze put his hand on James' shoulder and tried to cheer his great and who had broken down by saying, "Give men ten more men like you, Jimmy, and I could beat Occidental every day in the week."

That was probably true. Glaze Glaze eleven men like James and he could go on an eastern invasion. He is a demon on the field. There is no putting him down on punts. Time after time McClung dumped James as pretty as could be when he was going down on punts. But James always got up and nine times out of ten, he had dropped the Tiger man who received the punt before he had gone ten yards.

U.S.C.-Redlands.
The Trojans will go to Redlands Saturday for a return game with the Redlands. The game will be more for practice than anything else. Glaze will probably try some of his new plays up to the limit of the playing eyes of Stanton, who will be busy enough at Claremont.

From a Tribune.

OXY'S UNKNOWN FULLBACK MAKES STARS OF HALVES.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

CROSS DENOTES LOCATION OF BRANDSTETTER.

FOOTBALL fans are asking themselves this question: "Why does Coach Pital carry a passenger like Brandstetter around on his team when he has a line backer like Johnson to play fullback?"

Pause here a moment brethren and consider the strange case of Mr. Brandstetter.

Probably five thousand of our best citizens deposited from $1.75 (six bits) to twice that amount at the window of Howard Field last Saturday.

They paid that money with the determination that they would see everything possible at the price from the calm majesty with which the field judge surveyed the scene to the dancing dervish effect by Ralph Glaze every time his team was penalized.

And yet about half of these citizens failed to get their money's worth. They read the lineup on Sunday and they wondered where Brandstetter had been. Those who noticed him did so only because he was taken out with the ball on the Trojan 29-yard line and replaced by Johnson.

In fact the story has been the same in every game this season. Nobody knows that Occidental has a fullback until the enemy's fifteen-yard line is reached and then a tired looking person, coughing sweat at every pore shuffles to the sidelines and Charley Johnson proceeds to rip up the opposing line.

Stranger, whoever thou art, take off thy hat and bow the knee to Brandstetter, without whom McClung is as nothing and Foster is the same.

This hard-working young man is never seen for the simple reason that whenever either McClung or Foster takes the ball a large pile of the enemy immediately forms while the man with the ball passes serenely on for a good gain.

Beneath that pile in nine cases out of ten is Mr. Brandstetter, interference runner extraordinary; the bigger the pile the happier he is for that means less men to stop his team-mates in the backfield.

Brandstetter spent the whole summer tumbling in the L.A.A.C. gymnasium with the sole purpose of acquainting himself to the knock-out and discovering more ways to spread himself out and entangle the feet of opponents.

Coach Pital has turned out championship varieties because he has taken the position of fullback and filled it with a self-sacrificing young man who cares not for the plaudits of the throng but toils only for the good of his team.

Ask Coach Pital some day which man he can least afford to lose from his backfield. You would expect him to choose between McClung and Foster. These men are stars and would be stars without Brandstetter, but because of him they are the most feared backfield men in the South.

With hard working, unobtrusive and unassuming Brandstetter playing fullback Pital could put a co-ed in to carry the ball and have her make the all-southern team.

PARKER AND DREW MAY RUN AGAIN, 220 YARDS.

At Pasadena.

HOWARD DREW, the sensational colored sprinter of U.S.C. will probably be seen in action against the only man who has beaten him from scratch since the early part of 1911.

George Parker, the great runner from Stockton, who toured New Zealand with the American team, and who set up records of 24.5 in the 100, 21.4 in the 220 and 49.1 in the 440 during that trip, defeated Drew in the 120 at Fresno a few weeks ago, tying the world's record of 21.1 in doing it.

At that time Drew had just returned from a hard season in the East, and after leading all the way, he was noosed out by Parker's sensational sprint.

It is the firm belief of Boyd Comstock, formerly Drew's coach at U.S.C., that the local boy can make the turning in better than the 210 on the Tournament Park track at Pasadena, and he has secured the permission of the Tournament of Roses committee to bring Parker south for a match race January 1.

Drew, while admitting frankly that he had been beaten at Fresno, believes with lots of other people that the nose out the curly-headed northerner, and he will get into first-class condition for the race if it can be arranged.

POMONA HIGH HAS GREAT RECORD IN CITRUS BELT.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Nov. 3.—In winning from Redlands High School on the local campus, 54-0, last Saturday afternoon, the Pomona High School Rugby team scored its sixth successive victory this season, an aggregate of 220 points having been piled up by the Cardinals in the games with Harvard Military, Compton, Hollywood, San Bernardino and Redlands, none of these teams having been able to cross Pomona's line.

The only time this year the local lads have been scored against was in the game at San Bernardino, which ended in Pomona's favor, 43-3. In this instance the referee penalized Capt. Bobby Crosswell, claiming an "scout" who saw the game that Hollywood entered the fray full of fight and carried on as aggressively a team as those lads played with Pomona.

On the other hand, the local lads won from the Los Angeles Athletic Club's first team, 13-0, while Manual Arts scored against a team from L.A. A.C., 46-0.

On Saturday Manual Arts defeated Hollywood High School after a hard-fought, largely scrum-played battle, 18-3. Pomona High, on the other hand, when the local lads met Hollywood early in October, came out victors, 27-0.

It has been said in defense of the comparatively low tally in last Saturday's game with Hollywood that the Tullers were probably overconfident and did not play the high grade of ball they have put up this season.

Nevertheless it is stated by a Pomona "scout" who saw the game that Hollywood entered the fray full of fight and carried on as aggressively a team as those lads played with Pomona.

On next Saturday at Riverside Pomona will play another game in the Citrus Belt League series, with Riverside High School as opponents. No particular interest is felt as to the outcome by supporters of the local team, in the light of the Cardinals' supremacy of 43-3 over San Bernardino, because in the regular Citrus League game last Saturday between Riverside and San Bernardino the former's winning score against the Gate City boys was only 13-3. On this showing, then, Pomona should be two-thirds better than Riverside.

It is but reasonable at this stage of the situation—assuming in the natural course of events that Pomona emerges victorious from the Riverside game as Citrus Belt champions—that Coach Evans and his "Cards" should be casting ahead, speculating as to the form of the high school teams of Los Angeles they will soon be pitted against.

Coach Evans at this time thinks the needle points strongly towards the Manual Arts team, for if the latter wins from Polytechnic High next Friday the former in a first practice game with Harvard Military School won out, 39-0, while Manual Arts scored but thirteen points in its game with Harvard.

BOLOGNA SAUSAGES.

Are Made in New York from Cows that Have been Found Dying of Tuberculosis.

In a signed article in the New York
Globe, Mr. Alfred W. McCann declares that cows from which milk is drawn and sold to consumers are fed on brewery and distillery refuse that contain large quantities of protein and carbohydrates. The cow, stimulated by unnatural, "high-pressure" food, and deprived of the substances without which every animal, including the human animal, becomes diseased, is peened up between stanchions where exercise, sunlight and happiness are denied her, and in this imprisoned state is milked until her whole carcase becomes a nest of tubercles, against which she is robbed of her protective resistance and then sold to the unsuspecting butcher.

In fact, such cows are known to the trade as "bolognas," and by no other name. No milk cow ever dies of natural causes. She works to the last, and when about to die through exhaustion or disease, is killed for bologna.

Nearly 200,000 of them, rotten with disease, are ground up every year in the State of New York, mixed with potato starch, or other filler, water, and salt, and then dipped raw (mark that word raw) into a solution of ribbon dye called "smoke color," manufactured by the Preservative
Manufacturing Company, Lorimer avenue, Brooklyn.

The parts of the tuberculous cow which enter into the manufacture of frankfurters, bolognas, and "pressed ham," exclude the filler water and starch, and on the hoof from 4 cents to 6 cents per pound, and when dressed out cost from 1 cent to 12 cents a pound.

One-half pound of tuberculous old cow, costing at the outside 3 cents, mixed with one-half pound Croton water and starch, costing 2 cents, makes a meat product for the poor which retails at from 14 cents to 25 cents per pound.

In this uncooked condition these raw bolognas are consumed, yet Prof.
C. A. Winslow has edited an official State Health Department Bulletin which declares that the flesh of tuberculous cows is not dangerous because it is cooked, and cooking kills the germs.

THE BELGIAN "RATTLESNAKE."
The Deadly Machine Gun Invented
by Col. Lewis, U.S.A., Retired, Has been Powerful Aid to the Belgians.
[Leader:] That gun—the "Belgian Rattlesnake," as it came to be called on the firing line, because of its deadly rattle in action—is an American gun. It is the invention of a retired United States army officer.
It is the most ferocious small death machine ever known, and yet one man can carry and operate it. Two years ago Col. Isaac Newton Lewis, U.S.A., retired, late of the United States Coast Artillery, offered his invention on an automatic air-cooled machine gun to the United States government, and it was tried out by official test at College Park, Md.
Near-Admiral Frank P. Fletcher,
U.S.N., then Chief of Naval Ordnance, made the observation that 2000 of these air craft could be purchased and equipped with the new machine gun for the price of a single battleship.

And this was the verdict of Brigadier James Allen, Chief of the Signal Corps: "The effect on military warfare will be surprising."
Precisely this is what the present European war has disclosed, with the Lewis machine gun being used by the Belgians first, and now, from the latest reports from the front, by both British and Russian troops, against the Kaiser's men. Nevertheless, this gun was rejected by our government.
Col. Lewis was told that he might dispose of his military "moving machine" elsewhere, and the very first place he went to was Germany. After several trials of his gun in the field and in airships by the German army corps, Col. Lewis was asked to sell the sole rights to the use and manufacture of his machine gun to Germany. This he refused to do, and he next tried England. The British government consented to his selling the guns to her allies, but at the time would not guarantee to take all that
Col. Lewis could manufacture. Col.
Lewis then went over to Belgium, and there he sold his guns without any restrictions, and, lucky for the Belgians, up to the time the war broke out he had been able to make only enough of the guns for their use.

The result was that they were the only soldiers in the world possessing this most modern instrument of death when the Germans stormed Liege. This gun is due to a considerable degree the terrible slaughter of the Germans in the invasion of Belgium.

ting a war tax on circuses and letting be inferred that Congress didn't really need the money.
